La Jolla Music Society Announces Partnership with Colburn School in Los Angeles

San Diego, CA — As part of its ongoing mission to foster partnerships in the community and provide learning and performance opportunities to music students, La Jolla Music Society (LJMS) is delighted to announce a new partnership with the prestigious Colburn School in Los Angeles.

The partnership came about after cellist Clive Greensmith, a beloved LJMS SummerFest Artist, member of the Montrose Trio, former member of the Tokyo String Quartet, and faculty member at Colburn School, introduced LJMS Director of Learning and Engagement Allison Boles to Nick Gianopoulos in Colburn’s Artistic Administration.

As part of this partnership, exceptional young artists from the Colburn School’s Conservatory of Music will perform onstage at The Conrad in Musical Preludes prior to many concerts during the rest of LJMS’ Winter Season 2022–23. The Colburn Conservatory trains the very highest level of instrumental performers for careers in music, and Colburn alumni can be found in orchestras, chamber ensembles, and performing as soloists around the world.

The next performance by Colburn students is this Sunday, Dec. 4, 2022, at 2 p.m., just prior to the Discovery Series concert at 3 p.m. featuring Randall Goosby and Zhu Wang. A trio of Adam Millstein (violin), Jing Peng (viola), and Nathan Mo (cello) will perform Weinberg’s Trio for Violin, Viola, and Cello, Opus 48, and Castelnuovo-Tedesco’s String Trio for Violin, Viola, and Cello, Opus 147. This program is part of the Ziering-Conlon Initiative for Recovered Voices, a unique Colburn resource that encourages greater awareness and more frequent performances of music by composers whose careers and lives were destroyed by the Nazi regime in Europe.

Musical Preludes are free to all concert ticketholders.

“La Jolla Music Society has a longstanding commitment to the development of young artists. We provide high-quality training through our Fellowship Artist program, as well as through our music and dance master classes,” says Boles. “We also serve as a launchpad with our Discovery Series and offer professional performance opportunities at multiple levels, including our Musical Preludes. Our new partnership with the Colburn School will help La Jolla Music Society stay current and connected with up-and-coming musicians and provide their talented students with valuable performance opportunities outside the academic setting.”

ABOUT THE COLBURN SCHOOL
An internationally renowned performing arts institution located in the heart of downtown Los Angeles, the Colburn School trains students from those about to embark on professional careers to those just beginning their artistic journey. The units of the School (Conservatory of Music, Music Academy, Community School of Performing Arts, Trudl Zipper Dance Institute, and Center for Innovation and Community Impact) are joined by a single philosophy: that all who desire to study music and dance should have access to top-level instruction. Together, these units provide performing arts instruction to more than 2,000 students from around the world, who benefit from a world-class faculty and exceptional facilities. Colburn recently unveiled plans for a Frank Gehry-designed addition to the campus. Born out of an aspiration to serve the community and the School, the project will add a 1,000-seat concert hall and state-of-the-art dance studios for learning and performance.

ABOUT LA JOLLA MUSIC SOCIETY AT THE CONRAD
As one of Southern California’s leading presenters of premier performing arts, La Jolla Music Society contributes to San Diego’s cultural vitality year-round through a rich variety of presentations, including classical, jazz, global roots, contemporary music, and dance at its home, The Conrad Prebys Performing Arts Center in La Jolla. In addition to robust educational programs and community outreach, La Jolla Music Society produces SummerFest, a four-week music festival featuring more than 80 world-class artists and ensembles performing eclectic concerts. For more information, visit www.TheConrad.org, or call 858.459.3728.
